3. Objectives

3.1 To support the existing workforce, workplace risk assessments and management processes.

4. Policy

4.1 The Right Home Care Team Ltd recognises that certain factors have been associated with individuals being more vulnerable to severe disease or dying from COVID-19. We have a responsibility to carry out risk assessments and this includes all workers who are identified as being at greater risk. The Right Home Care Team Ltd will take steps to identify and manage the risks. Additionally, we will include in our assessment, those staff who are not classified as high risk, in line with NHS definitions, but who may have other health concerns or anxieties.

4.2 The Right Home Care Team Ltd will ensure that we are clear with our staff about why we are having conversations with them and that we will follow GDPR07 - Privacy Impact Assessment Policy and Procedure, ensuring that processing is generally lawful, fair and transparent and complies with all the other principles and requirements of the UK GDPR.

5. Procedure

5.1 Risk Factors

The Right Home Care Team Ltd is aware that research is evolving about COVID-19 and it will keep up to date with the emerging information. When assessing its workforce, it will consider the following:

- | Age: Increasing age is a known risk factor. Those age 70 or older are at an increased risk. This will be considered alongside underlying health conditions or other risk factors
- | Ethnicity: The latest evidence shows that those of a Black, Asian or Minority Ethnic background who were diagnosed with COVID-19, had an up to 2 times increased risk of death than white ethnic groups, but it is important to recognise that this data did not account for the effect of occupation, co-morbidities or obesity, which may be associated with the risk of acquiring and/or dying from COVID-19
- | Sex: The latest evidence shows that working-age males diagnosed with COVID-19 are twice as likely to die as females, but it is important to recognise that this data did not account for the effect of occupation and co-morbidities or obesity, which may be associated with risk of acquiring or dying from COVID-19
- | Some underlying health conditions including:
 - | Respiratory diseases, for example asthma or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease
 - | Hypertension
 - | Cardiovascular disease
 - | Diabetes mellitus
 - | Chronic kidney disease
 - | Chronic liver disease
 - | Very obese (BMI 40 or above)
- | Pregnancy: All pregnant women should have a workplace risk assessment. Specific guidance on COVID-19 and pregnancy can be found in guidance set out by the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RCOG):
 - | Women more than 28 weeks pregnant or who have an underlying condition will be recommended to stay at home
 - | Women less than 28 weeks pregnant must only work in direct care roles where risk assessment supports this

5.2 The Right Home Care Team Ltd will identify staff who are at higher risk. The Registered Manager has the responsibility for undertaking this activity but The Right Home Care Team Ltd may delegate this to another member of staff with the skills and competencies to carry out this role.

5.3 The Right Home Care Team Ltd will gather information by:

- | Having a conversation with each worker to identify if there are any potential risk factors and if a risk assessment is required and /or
- | Requesting all workers to complete a questionnaire individually and then having conversations with those who have been identified as having potential risk factors that require a risk assessment

5.4 The Right Home Care Team Ltd will not make assumptions about any member of the workforce and will engage with all staff.

5.5 Care will be taken when asking for personal health information and this will only be asked for when it is required to support the worker. The level of detail provided will be no more than is necessary and reasonable. In the context of this risk assessment, it would be deemed reasonable to request information relating to those factors which may make an individual more vulnerable to infection or have an adverse outcome from COVID-19. The Right Home Care Team Ltd will follow all the UK GDPR and Data Protection policies and staff involved in the collection of information will ensure that confidentiality is maintained.

5.6 The Right Home Care Team Ltd will use a risk assessment template and will refer to the vulnerable groups risk assessment template in the QCS Management system where appropriate. The Right Home Care Team Ltd will ensure that a review date is included and that the risk assessment is reviewed and updated when new information arises or circumstances change.

5.7 Managing Sensitive Conversations

- | The Right Home Care Team Ltd will be sensitive to the potential barriers to workers feeling able to have an open conversation which may include concerns that disclosing this information may disadvantage them in the future in terms of earnings, work status or terms and conditions of their employment

- | Cultural factors will be taken into consideration so that workers have the confidence to openly discuss and resolve their concerns
- | The following mechanism will be put in place to encourage and support open and confidential discussions:
 - | Ensuring the conversation is in a confidential setting
 - | Providing sufficient time for a detailed conversation to take place
 - | Setting out the purpose of the conversation, including providing workers with reassurance and advising them of the reasons for disclosing information. This will include what will be done with the information and, if necessary, where it will be stored
 - | Allowing opportunity for workers to raise any concerns
 - | Where appropriate, involve external networks such as those for Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic or disabled workers
 - | Documenting the conversation, sharing this with the worker and retaining the information confidentially and securely

5.8 Involving Others in Sensitive Conversations

The Right Home Care Team Ltd will adapt the conversations depending on the role and location of the worker. Measures to support the process may include:

- | Conversations being carried out by, or with the support of, occupational health or human resource managers where available
- | Third-party individuals being included if the worker wants additional support. This may include a trade union representative, staff networks, or other appropriate individuals
- | Trade union colleagues, local partnerships and staff networks may be able to offer support for these conversations or highlight the concerns of identified at risk ethnic minority colleagues and others who may have risk factors regarding COVID-19 in the workplace

5.9 Listening to Concerns

The Right Home Care Team Ltd is aware of the impact that COVID-19 has had on its workforce and strives to support its workers, encouraging them to share their concerns. As part of the risk assessment process it will:

- | Offer opportunities to express concerns
- | Ensure its teams have information about the latest research/data
- | Review mechanisms available for ethnic minority workers or other vulnerable groups to raise concerns
- | Signpost resources with a specific equality focus or content
- | Ensure that senior leadership staff endorse the risk assessment and have an awareness of potential increased risk. The aim is to encourage workers to feel able to have these conversations
- | Review any staff networks (for example, ethnic minority, disability or health condition groups) available in The Right Home Care Team Ltd and establish what could be done to better support and strengthen what is available
- | Engage with unions regarding management of risk assessments and mitigation of risks
- | Understand the guidance for individuals who may be required to take further precautions in line with government and clinical advice and shield

5.10 Individual Measures

The options available to reduce the risk to workers at The Right Home Care Team Ltd will be dependent on the type of work they do and the role they have. The Right Home Care Team Ltd will consider a range of options which may include:

- | Redeployment to a setting or a role where the risks are lower- for example, to support people who are not thought to be infected by COVID-19 or to work remotely where possible, as per the 5 steps to working safely guidance
- | Adjustments to work arrangements - for example, reducing or removing the need for workers to use public transport for work or a change in shift patterns where public transport cannot be avoided

- | Seeking advice and guidance from an Occupational Health Specialist
- | If the workplace is not safe for the employee and the employee cannot work from home or be redeployed, then The Right Home Care Team Ltd may consider placing the member of staff on furlough in line with national guidance. If there is a lack of agreement on this, QCS Client Ltd will follow PP04 - Grievances Policy and Procedure to ensure a resolution that is satisfactory for all parties
- | The Right Home Care Team Ltd will consider individual circumstances on a case by case basis when making decisions and assessing workplace risks. Conversations will be documented, and a copy given to the worker
- | The Right Home Care Team Ltd is responsible for ensuring that a system of safe work is set up, implemented and communicated clearly to all workers. It will follow government advice on COVID-19 risk management
- | Where The Right Home Care Team Ltd has concerns that it cannot resolve within The Right Home Care Team Ltd, it will seek legal advice

5.11 Workplace Measures

The Right Home Care Team Ltd will also ensure that COVID-secure measures are in place within the workplace that align to government guidelines and help reduce risks to staff. This will include (but is not limited to) aspects such as:

- | Hand washing facilities
- | Social distancing, e.g. workstations and staff
- | Robust cleaning and sanitising routines
- | Good ventilation to reduce the transmission of the virus
- | Support for stress, mental health and wellbeing

For further support, refer to the HSE guidance on preventing coronavirus which can be found here, alongside the COVID-19 Hub on the QCS Management System.
